EASTERN NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

The Ohio Election.

COLUMBUS Oct 15 —Official reported returns have been received from forty six counties which show a net Democratic gain in forty six counties of 10,000 This gain throughout the State would elect Allen by over 4 000 The Democrats claim the Legislature in both branches, which the Republicans are disposed to concede

CLEVELAND Oct 16 —The State ticket is still in doubt, with chances favoring the Democrats by a small majority The Senate and House will stand about 15 Democratic majority on joint ballot

The Iowa Election.

DES MOINES Oct 15 —Full returns from thirty three counties or one third of the whole State, show a Republican loss over the vote of 1871 of 25 000 The anti monopolists and Democrats will probably have a majority in the House of Representatives and the Republicans a majority in the Senate.

CHICAGO, Oct 16—Latest returns from the Iowa election make the vote on the State ticket much closer than the first news would indicate The Tribune publishes a table of majorities in 43 counties, showing that Carpenter (Rep.) for Governor is 6,520 ahead—a falling off from his vote two years ago which, if equaled in the rest of the State, will make the contest very close, if it does not defeat him The anti monopolists have undoubtedly carried the Legislature on joint ballot and probably in both Houses

Financial Matters in New York.

NEW YORK, Oct 15 —The situation at the Stock Exchange early in the day was marked by a heavy fall in values owing to further failures and pressure of stocks to realize money but there was a sudden change to extreme buoyancy, under which prices advanced sharply

In regard to the banks it is stated the situation is improving Those confining themselves to legitimate business are not hindered by stock operations and currency is coming in from the country in considerable quantities

Brown Wardsworth & Co. have resumed operations and notified the Stock Exchange to that effect. This is the first of the private banking firms suspended during the recent panic to resume

At the Produce Exchange to-day business is good. That done yesterday in breadstuffs was rather above the average

Geo Bird Grinnell & Co to-day filed a petition to be adjudicated bankrupts This proceeding supersedes and virtually terminates the proceedings instituted in bankruptcy by Henry Meyers.

Trial of Stokes.

NEW YORK, Oct 15 —The testimony in the Stokes case to-day was substantially the same as that given at previous trials.

A Missionary.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Vincent Colyer left this morning for Memphis and other places south, as a volunteer, paying his own expenses to aid the members of the Young Men's Christian Association and families suffering from yellow fever

Yellow Fever.

MEMPHIS, Oct. 15.—Latest reports of the visiting committees are unfavorable. The disease has scattered throughout the city, and localities heretofore exempt from any epidemics to-day report several new cases though physicians agree that the fever is less malignant. The [illegible] in the mortuary report at noon to-day inspires a hope that though many new [illegible] may occur, they will be attended with less fatality The weather continues clear and warm The number of deaths from fever to-day, 41

Ten thousand more rations were received to-day by order of President Grant It is understood that blankets and clothing will be sent from the same source.

Major Johnson was reported as doing well at noon.

MEMPHIS, Oct. 16 —There was nothing reliable at noon to-day as to the progress of the disease, but there is an impression that few new cases have occurred There were no reports up to noon of any other cases of yellow fever

Views of New York Capitalists on the Monetary Situation.

NEW YORK, Oct 16 —Interviews this morning with several of the wisest capitalists here who keep outside of all speculative ventures, develops their conviction that the bottom has been substantially reached in the stock market, while more or less fluctuations are probable They say the downward turns will henceforth be short and confined to small amounts of stock, and upward turns large and for large amounts Regular money lenders evidently hold similar views and have come into the street, for the first time since the panic to buy stock for personal investment Several of the heaviest and soundest commission houses, are telegraphing their European and Canadian clients to forward orders for any description of stocks, as the time has come for flattering investments

Meeting of State Granges.

NEW YORK, Oct 16 —A meeting of the Executive Committee of State Granges of Patrons of Husbandry of the Mississippi Valley is being held at Keokuk, Iowa, to-day, with representatives from Iowa, Illinois, Kansas, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Missouri

Interesting to Wheat Sellers.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—One of the most extensive dealers in the country said to-day that exporters were taking every bushel of grain they could obtain His house alone is receiving 10,000 bushels of wheat each day, which is immediately sent abroad He thinks the Produce Exchange is outside Wall street influences, and that any difficulties in the money market, occasioned by stock speculation will not materially affect dealers in produce The people of Europe want bread and they will get it if they are compelled to send gold here for it He concluded by saying that the prospect for a continued brisk trade was very good

CONVIVIAL CONVICTS

A SING SING CONVICT TURNS DISTILLER AND SUPPLIES KEEPERS AND OTHER CONVICTS WITH THE ARDENT

NEW YORK Sept 29 About three months ago it was noticed that many of the convicts and some of the keepers at Sing Sing in the quarry gang were more or less intoxicated when they went in at night and many were the devices to catch the supposed smuggler of liquor On Friday night one of the guard heard a convict talking in his cell and say "I've always been a good friend to you why don't you set up straight" The guard looked in and saw the convict addressing a pop-bottle which he then took from him It had the color of whisky and the convict was drunk When questioned by the Warden, he said he bought the whisky from a quarry distiller at one dollar per bottle under a ledge hidden by some boards The Warden found John Short, a convict at work in his distillery He had an iron kettle boarded over which he used as a boiler Some old barrels contained the mash, which was a mass of bread corn, tomatoes apples potatoes and carrots The still was in full blast, and from a half inch gas pipe—twisted into a worm—ran a good stream of tolerably fair spirits John was searched and six hundred dollars was found in his possession He sold his stuff at one dollar a pop-bottle The keepers he said were good customers and helped him rig up his establishment, and he had just completed arrangements to supply some neighboring saloons with his products The still produced an average of five gallons a day

THE SHREVEPORT PLAGUE

The outbreak of yellow fever at Shreveport La., seems to be wholly due to a reckless disregard of the most ordinary sanitary precautions The town was reeking with filth Not only were the dead bodies of animals allowed to decay on the streets during the heated term and mud holes to give forth their miasmatic vapors without thought of removing the one and filling up the other but incredible as it may seem on the sinking of a steamboat in Red river near the city drowning a hundred Texan cattle which were on board the bodies were dragged ashore for their hides and then left to decompose under the fervid rays of the sun poisoning the atmosphere for miles It would be strange indeed if such a wanton violation of the laws of health could remain unpunished and had not the yellow fever set in some equally malignant disease was inevitable New Orleans has been entirely free from the plague which decimated it year after year, since General Butler gave it a thorough cleaning and this alone should teach the value of purification were not its advantages and absolute necessity generally understood Nature permits no violations of her laws without exacting a terrible compensation

A PLUCKY EDITOR.—We had hoped to be able to keep our readers even during the prevalence of the epidemic posted on the news of the day, but as we have before stated nearly all our attaches are sick and we have been forced to reduce reading matter to three columns all the telegraphic operators are down with the fever and we are consequently unable to obtain the press dispatches and finally the mails from many localities have been stopped and our exchange list thereby greatly reduced Under these circumstances we can do nothing more than furnish the local news of the city, and the Times of late has appeared more like a necrological record than a newspaper However so long as we can find a man in town who can and will set type and while a single member of our business editorial or reportorial staff keeps on his feet the Times will make its regular appearance A newspaper should know no fear while there is a human life it can claim to its service it should keep on its course Neither war pestilence nor death should check its course or still its voice and amid all it should live in eras of peace and prosperity to fulfill its usual mission well known to all—in seasons like this to chronicle the local and preserve the record of human misery and human heroism.—Shreveport Times.

Mrs Hill who shot her husband at New Worcester Mass on Sunday evening, did it in complete way with all the accompaniments of fashionable life She was walking beside him and asked him to take her parasol for her He took it and she then after putting her hand in her pocket to get the pistol asked him to let her kiss him He consented She put her arms about him and put a lead bullet in his left lung His recovery is doubtful Her equanimity is not disturbed

Dr Simon a physician of Lorraine gives a new cure for boils by treating them with camphorated alcohol As soon as the culminating point of a boil makes its appearance, he puts a little of the liquid in a saucer and dipping the ends of his middle fingers with it rubs the inflamed surface especially the central part, repeating the operation eight or ten times for about half a minute He then allows the surface to dry, placing over it a slight coating of camphorated olive oil He says that four such applications will in almost all cases, cause boils to dry up and disappear The application should be made at morning, noon and in the evening

THE BALLOON OF THE FUTURE

[From the New York Times September 24th]

Yesterday Professor Wise his son and Dr Parsel, who is stated to have been "chief of the aeronautic service under the French Commune" at Paris met Mr P T Barnum by appointment at the Astor House, to give expression to their views as to the possibility of a successful transatlantic balloon trip Mr Barnum proposes giving his entire attention to the subject for some time to come and with that view he starts for Europe to-day in order to consult with aeronauts in London Paris and other places He seems quite sanguine of success and says that no amount of trouble or expense will deter him from carrying out his scheme The balloon which Professor Wise recommends would cost from $15 000 to $18 000 He would have it made of Chinese silk and he says that with a diameter of 80 feet it would not weigh over 2 000 pounds The upper part of the balloon would be reinforced with a muslin covering rendered water proof He would not put in more than 150 000 cubic feet of gas as that would be sufficient to carry up about 11 000 pounds Being asked by Mr Barnum what was the best time of year for the trip, he said that no month would be as favorable as June or July Dr Parsel was then questioned His plan is to substitute hot air for gas as a buoyant agent while to lower the balloon he would introduce cool air He gives the following calculation in figures Six hundred thousand feet of hot air giving a lifting power of 18 000 pounds balloon netting and coating 6 000 pounds car stove provisions and men 3 000 pounds oil 8 000 pounds ballast 1 000 pounds He said that 8 000 pounds of oil would last thirty days or long enough for a trip two and a half times around the earth Mr Barnum having remarked that one trip around the earth would be quite enough for him asked Prof Wise what he thought of Dr Parsel's plan Prof Wise said that he knew nothing about hot air balloons he believed there was something feasible in the plan but he would not like to engage in it "What shall I do" asked Barnum "when I find the doctors disagreeing" "You had better have the cheapest experiment first" remarked Dr Parsel "No" said the great showman "I want the safest first I would rather pay $10 000 [illegible] to succeed than $10 000 to fail" Then turning to Prof Wise he said "I should like to have you in London" "If I am able for you will you come" "I will" answered the balloonist "but I'd rather [illegible]" "Would you be willing" continued Mr Barnum "to try it from London here in the spring" "I would undertake" said the Professor "to [illegible] Atlantic continent but not from North America" Mr Wise then remarked that the air current being from west to east a trip from England to this country could not be made In the course of some further conversation Mr Barnum remarked "I'll attend to nothing but ballooning for the next month or two I am determined to spend my last dollar and to get the best men" The conference then ended

OREGON STATE FAIR.

Thirteenth Annual Fair of the Oregon State Agricultural Society.

SALEM Oct 15 1873

The Thirteenth Annual State Fair has finally closed with the races of to-day The rules regulations and general management of the Board of Directors for the last two years with Mr M Wilkins for President have given great satisfaction and made the Fair popular in all parts of the State This fact, in connection with the general prosperity of the country, led to the conclusion that the attendance and exhibitions at the Fair would be the largest and most successful ever held in the State These reasonable expectations were defeated in a great measure by the rain that commenced falling on the morning of Tuesday the second day and continued the two following days putting the roads in a horrible condition and rendering the Fair grounds most uncomfortable During the week there were only two dry days—Monday and Friday Had it not been for the rain there would have been an average attendance of 15,000 persons during the week, and at least 20 000 on Wednesday and Thursday and the receipts would have amounted to $15,000 Notwithstanding the great disadvantage caused by the rain, the attendance was considerable and the receipts fair

IMPROVED STOCK

One important matter is certain there never was at any of the former State Fairs such a splendid exhibition of thoroughbred cattle, sheep and horses as at this one, both for number and blood The most superficial observer could see at a glance how admirably adapted the soil and climate of Oregon is for raising to perfection the best stock of every description For notwithstanding that the best blood of cattle, sheep and horses have been imported into the State from the best herders, regardless of expense yet in every instance the progeny of those animals excel the imported ones Mr S G Reed's Lord of the Valley 14 months old, and Captain Jack 6 months old calf are perfection itself

Mr W C Myers' two year filly and colt are as much superior to their sires and dams as the latter surpass the common stock of the State Messrs B E Stewart & Sons' cotswolds have both in quality and denseness of fleece Mr J L Davidson's Spanish merinos for length of staple fineness of spiral and vitality of constitution have few equals and no superiors in any country Mr J R Cameron's Leicester lambs far surpass his imported stock, notwithstanding that they were selected from the flocks of the most celebrated breeds in Scotland and Australia. These remarks are equally applicable to the flocks of Mr. Thomas Cross and Mr John Minto, and are given merely as samples of how admirably adapted the climate and soil of Oregon are to improve the best imported thoroughbred animals under the management of those who understand and give the subject proper attention Nothing will reward farmers better than good stock If they commence with good blood, attention and perseverance will amply reward them

WHEAT AND VEGETABLES

From what is known of the climate and soil of the State, the departments of cereals and vegetables are always expected to be well represented at the State Fair This year the exhibition, in both respects, was unusually fine The fall and spring were remarkably favorable for plowing and sowing and the summer for maturing, the results were seen at this Fair in the display of as fine samples of wheat, barley oats and other cereals as ever grew, as well as vegetables of every kind to the great perfection

THE FARMERS THEIR EXCELLENT CONDUCT AND GOOD TASTE OF THEIR FAMILIES.

The details of the Fair have been so fully given in your paper, that it is unnecessary to be further particular at present, farther than to remark that however the Fair may be considered a failure, in point of influential visitors it was pre-eminently a farmers' Fair The management was most satisfactory the conduct of the people was exemplary, not a drunken or disorderly person was seen on the Fair grounds during the week While the theaters circus and other places of amusement were comparatively empty Reed's Panorama was crowded every evening to excess This simple fact is a compliment to the good taste of the families of the farmers of the State, the people of Oregon and the magnificent paintings composing the panoramas representing the grand and sublime scenery of Oregon Washington Territory and California, and no less a united compliment to the artist, Col C A Reed of Salem

THE RUNNING RACES

From the well known character of the horses that were announced to run to-day on the track of the Fair Grounds, a large attendance was anticipated The day was dry, the atmosphere was comfortable and the track was in a favorable condition But for want of due publicity and other causes, only a few from the city were present As a matter of course there was little interest and no excitement connected with the races The races were run the money was won and the people went home

THE FIRST RACE

Was a single dash of half a mile for the citizens purse of $150 Two horses started Wm Gird's sorrel gelding Plowboy, got the first place and J F Bybee's four year old bay horse Confidence got the outside A prompt and fair start was accomplished at once For the first quarter of a mile the running was neck and girth but at the turn for the home stretch Confidence shot ahead and passed the Judges stand first by some lengths winning the race and getting the purse The time made was [illegible] seconds

THE SECOND RACE

At 2:30 P M the horses were called out and saddled The race was a single dash of a mile and a half for a citizens purse of $150 Four horses were entered but only two run—Mr Gird's sorrel gelding Buckskin and J F Bybee's three-year old sorrel horse William Bingham The latter got the inside track and the former the outside A good start was easily secured The running was about equal for a short distance but Bingham soon rushed to the front leaving Buckskin in the rear quite a number of lengths This distance was kept more or less all the way until the winning post was reached which Bingham passed first fully four yards ahead of Buckskin This made Mr Bybee the winner of both races and entitled to the $300 the amount subscribed by the citizens for both races The time made for the first race was [illegible] and for the mile and a half [illegible]

THE WHEAT CROP

This is one of the most successful seasons for the farmers that Oregon has ever experienced The wheat crop is unusually large in quantity the quality is very superior and the price is good The total wheat crop of the State will reach from 4,000,000 to 4,500,000 bushels and the quantity for exporting will be about [illegible] 000,000 bushels For a population [illegible] people this is the largest quantity of wheat for each individual man woman and child of any State in the Union When the [illegible] [illegible] the climate and soil of Oregon [illegible] [illegible] other cereals [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

THE GREAT [illegible]

[illegible] with the East and Western [illegible] rapidly [illegible] and lines of shipping vessels [illegible] will eventually accomplish all this The progress made in Oregon during the last ten years in improved stock the cultivation of the soil [illegible] saving machines the industrial habits of the people their comfortable homes refined tastes the progress of education and the independent spirit of the people generally, are signs of sure and steady progress that indicate a grand future for the State, and are guarantees that the difficulties and obstacles in the way of still greater progress will soon be removed and her leading wants met by the growing enterprise, energy, wealth and independence of the farmers merchants bankers capitalists and the people of the State generally

SALEM

Is a beautiful place for a summer residence it is the center of great wealth prosperity and refinement nothing can hinder its steady progress The public buildings will compare favorably with any on the Pacific coast for the extent of the population the merchants are all busy and look forward to a profitable season's business the manufacturers mechanics tradesmen and laborers have all the work they can do The sound of industry the signs of prosperity and indications of happiness are everywhere apparent Let Salem prosper is the wish of

We learn from the Statesman, of the 16th inst that the Salem ferryboat which plys between that city and Polk county, struck a snag Wednesday morning and sunk in the middle of the river The boat lies aground in three or four feet of water; probably it will have to be towed ashore to be pumped out, where it is likely she will have to lie some time for repairs Did not ascertain the extent of damage

The Reporter says "On last Sunday morning, grandmother Garrison, who lives at the ferry between McMinnville and Amity, met with a misfortune receiving very severe injuries Together with her son and a young lady, she had started for McMinnville She was sitting in a chair near the high spring seat occupied by the other two in the wagon, when the seat gave way and came down, occupants and all, upon the aged lady, giving her a hard blow about the breast and breaking one of her ribs. She is quite an old lady but we understand she is bearing up under her injuries and is rapidly recovering

A band of Crow chiefs composed of Black foot, Iron Bull Long Horse, Bear Wolf, Slim Bully and their wives are at Corinne on their way to Washington to have a talk with their Great Father The Reporter says they are the chiefs of the bands of Mountain Crows, and are waiting for more chiefs when they will proceed on their journey

A few days since the daughter of a well to-do ranchman, residing on the head waters of Walker river in Utah, a handsome and well educated young lady about 16 or 17 years of age, eloped with a young man of the Piute persuasion who had been working about her father's place The girl and her dusky lover got considerably the start of the father and, it would seem did some tall traveling toward the wilderness and the warrior's castle of sagebrush on the Lake of Walker, but the father did not let the grass grow under his feet or his horse's hoofs He procured the best horse in the settlement and rode a distance of 180 miles in 15 hours He caught his runaway daughter somewhere between Walker Lake and the Sink of the Carson and snatched her home bald headed What became of the gallant "lover" we have not learned The chances are that the irate parent made it so warm for him that he will not hereafter hanker after a white father in law

FRIDAY MORNING OCTOBER 17 1873

THE MISSISSIPPI COMPLICATION.

Said that watchful old political philosopher Carlyle to a correspondent the other day: "Sir, we are all going to the devil together." He had been looking at France rent with Orleans and Bourbon, at Spain struggling confusedly after the shadow of a republic, at Italy threatened from without and from within, at England with her trades unions and radical clubs. But it was chiefly from America that the Scotch philosopher drew his gloomy moral. He had heard of Credit Mobilier, of Louisiana, lobbyists of the District of Columbia, where if anywhere republicanism pure and undefiled should be found.

Thomas Carlyle is the type of a class which abounds in America at the present time. They are the political pessimists, men who by nature or habit look always upon the gloomiest aspect of social and political affairs. This nation, the world, indeed, is afflicted with a political hypochondria which perceives no good without its overbalancing evil, which looks upon no evil however inconsiderable it may be in comparison with graver evils which have been passed through successfully as the sure death doom of our liberties. Of course the greater number of these melancholy complainants are to be found in the ranks of the Democratic party. The fruitful brain of an active opposition is continually evolving grave issues from momentary differences of opinion or distressing complications from temporary and merely local disturbances. The latest theme of worriment to these weeping philosophers is the unhappy situation of political affairs in Mississippi. It cannot be denied that there is grave cause for anxiety, nor that the greatest prudence will be required in quelling the stormy elements which have involved that State in the difficulties which beset her now; but we are far from believing, as some predict, that this unfortunate renewal of old strifes will bring about a general war of the races throughout the South. The condition of Mississippi is a peculiar one. At the Republican State Convention, held in August last, Senators Ames and Alcorn were contestants for the nomination for Governor. By a skillful manipulation of the colored element Ames was successful, whereupon Alcorn with a large part of the white delegates withdrew in anger. Immediately Alcorn announced himself an independent candidate for the office of Governor. Shortly after the Democratic State Convention met at Jackson and declined to make any nomination, at the same time commending Alcorn to the Democracy of Mississippi. The campaign has been intensely bitter, and in many [illegible] domestic violence has been threatened. But the extremists have been [illegible], and until quite recently there was every prospect that this turbulent element would subside. At the time of which we speak, Attorney General Morris, in answer to the request of Governor Powers, gave an opinion to the effect that there can be no general election in the State this fall, nor in fact, before November, 1874. The ground on which the opinion is based is that the law passed by the Legislature of 1871, providing for a general election at this time, conflicts with a provision of the State Constitution, which requires that all general elections be held biennially. It is argued that the act of the Legislature makes a general election occur each year. In accordance with this opinion, Governor Powers has issued his proclamation declaring his belief in the correctness of the Attorney General's views, appealing to the people of the State and enjoining upon all officers of the State and of the several counties to aid him in carrying out the provisions of the Constitution. The proclamation is received with considerable favor by the Alcorn faction. One of his journals declares that the postponement will save the State about $500,000 and will re-establish the Constitutional requirement, giving to the people a season of rest for the full constitutional period of two years. On the other hand, Senator Ames' organ denounces the proclamation as incendiary and refractory. The probable result is the old bitterness will be revived and a struggle for supremacy involving the whole State in its discords will follow. The omens are not insignificant to any one who has watched the parties of the South with any degree of attention. It is to be remembered that the scandalous Louisiana troubles sprang from a beginning quite as petty as this. It is said that Attorney-General Williams is greatly annoyed at the outlook in Mississippi. He fears that the present difference will end in two governments between which the General Government, under the Constitution, will have to choose, and that it will be another Louisiana muddle. He is also quite confident that before long he will be appealed to by one side or the other to adjust matters with which he has nothing to do. In the intercourse of the General Government with the States it is necessary to recognize the bona fide Government, and until there is a conflict and two pretended Governments are in existence, no question can come before the Attorney-General. It should be fortunate that the first session of the Forty third Congress is near at hand. A repetition of the blunders committed by its predecessor, in the Louisiana matter would encourage the gloomy Carlylean school of prophecy and hurry the nation toward the Scotchman's resting place for all governmental failures, namely, Limbo.

MARK HOW PLAIN A TALE [illegible]

The Statesman [illegible] says that the OREGONIAN "which has been so fittingly rebuked in its own city by the small majority given the Republican candidate." Let us see wherein this rebuke consists. In the Congressional election of 1872, the majority for Joseph G. Wilson (Rep.) over John Burnett (Dem.) was just 850. Hiram Smith's majority over J. W. Nesmith is 536. Here then is a manifest decrease in the Republican majority of 314. Furthermore it is a fact admitted by all candid people that fully 400 of the votes which were cast for Hiram Smith were illegal—the work of repeaters. To this must be added at least 150 votes polled by non-residents imported into this county to "endorse" Senator Mitchell. Deduct 550 from 536 and you have Mr. Smith's actual majority in algebraic terms, minus 14 (—14). This would show an actual falling off of just 864 Republican votes. In the light of these figures—and they are indisputable—that "scathing rebuke" takes on new and interesting features. We may add that Grant's majority in this county over Horace Greeley in November last was 918.

INNOCENT OF THE CHARGE.

In speaking of the meeting held in Mitchell & Dolph's office on Wednesday night for the purpose of devising ways and means to save certain members of the ring from the Penitentiary, we stated yesterday that Hiram Smith, Esq., lately nominee of the Albany Convention for Congress, was present. Our assertion was made on the authority of several gentlemen who averred that they saw Mr. Smith leave the office of [illegible] at the end of the conference. We are now assured by Mr. Smith that our informants were gravely in error; he was not in attendance, as alleged, but was otherwise engaged at the time of the meeting. We have on several occasions expressed the high regard we entertain for Mr. Smith. We are far from wishing to do him any injustice. Our statement, as will be seen, was based on evidence quite conclusive until the gentleman's denial was made.

ELECTION RETURNS.

In answer to our inquiries from all parts of the State we hear "No returns from the country precincts." The delay is provoking. We should have received full reports from the counties of Marion, Clackamas, Yamhill, Washington, Columbia, Clatsop, Linn, Lane, Josephine, Jackson and Wasco. But we have not in a single instance had complete returns from any county. In this state of affairs we do not feel like revising our latest estimates in detail. From our best sources of information, we conclude that Nesmith's total majority in the State will fully equal 1,835, with a fair prospect for reaching 2,000.

M. Lesseps, who constructed the Suez Canal, proposes to build a railroad from Orenburg, Russia, to Peshawur, India, a distance of 2,500 miles. By connecting railways with this route, freight, passengers or troops would be forwarded from Calais to Calcutta through Warsaw and Moscow without break of gauge. The entire line, two-thirds of which has been finished, will be 7,400 miles in length. For the unbuilt portion M. Lesseps asks $700,000 from the Government of Russia to pay for preliminary work. If it should be built the railroad will play an important part in any complications arising between England and Russia, as the latter nation could make a rapid descent without much fear of interruption upon the British possessions in India and attack England at one of her most valued but least defensible points. Hence the project is extensively discussed by the English press.

The Michigan Constitutional Commission rejected, by a tie vote, after a protracted and brisk discussion, a proposition to place a recognition of the Deity in the preamble. Provisions have been adopted prohibiting grants to sectarian bodies, schools, or institutions and permitting men to hold office and to testify in courts regardless of their religious belief. A proposition to incorporate the Illinois cumulative system of voting was rejected. Resolutions have been adopted, instructing the committee to inquire into the expediency of making women eligible to elective offices, of exempting husbands from liability for debts contracted by their wives before marriage or after marriage in relation to their sole property and of prohibiting any distinction of sex in regard to the acquisition, possession, enjoyment and disposition of property.

Mrs Wm Bines a Cattaraugus woman of spirit whose words indicate how grievously she was victimized when she was wed to her present liege is the responsible author of this document:

"Whereas my husband Wm Bines has left my bed and board without just cause or provocation all persons are forbidden to trust him on my account as I shall pay no debts of his contraction after this date; also all persons are forbidden to buy any of my property of him. If he will stay at home and keep sober, I will willingly support him but will not do so while he is rambling around."

From all of which we infer that if William will stay at home and keep drunk Mrs. B. will support him under protest. But so long as he rambles around he must shift for himself.

CITY.

ASSAULT WITH A DANGEROUS WEAPON.—Yesterday [illegible] who keeps a stand [illegible] Front street between Washington and Stark, named [illegible], was arrested for shooting at a Chinaman with a pistol. It appears that [illegible] the chimney flues of the building occupied at present by the Chinese firm of [illegible] next door to Wells Fargo & Co's office on First street became defective and required some repairs. The agent of the property sent two bricklayers to the Chinese store with instructions for them to point out the defects where the work was required. Accompanied by a young Chinaman the bricklayers started for the roof of the building over the express office. On reaching the [illegible] building the guide and the masons were confronted by Colingen, who disputed the right to pass through a side [illegible] on the roof. Colingen it seems was employed as a janitor about the building and he imagined that no one had any right to invade the premises without his special permission, which he saw proper to withhold. Both the Chinaman and masons explained the nature of their errand on the roof by which they were sent and desired to be allowed to pass on. This Colingen stubbornly refused to permit. Finding the janitor determined to prevent them from passing out the door the Chinaman hoisted a window at [illegible] and pointed out where the flue was. Colingen was greatly enraged at the defiance thus shown his authority, and drawing a pistol discharged it at the Chinaman. Fortunately the ball went wide the mark but the weapon was so close that the face of the celestial was powder burned. The whole affair was done in a flash before there could be any interference. As a matter of course the Chinaman was frightened dreadfully and the bricklayers' nerves were not very steady. The old darkey was arrested at once and taken to jail where he is at present. His case will be attended to this morning in the Police Court when it is to be hoped he will suffer to the fullest extent of the law for such a cowardly and unwarranted assault.

MORE YOUTHFUL DEPRAVITY.—Only a few days since we were called upon to relate an instance of juvenile depravity wherein a small boy was found guilty of horse stealing. We are again required to make mention of another case that came before the Police Judge yesterday. Three boys, the oldest of whom will not exceed sixteen years, named, respectively, John Dale, James McMullen and T Johnson were arrested on Wednesday evening charged with larceny. Last Saturday night these three young culprits entered the office of J R Witherell on Front street and purloined several articles of clothing the aggregate value of which would not exceed $5. The articles stolen consisted of one shirt, a pair of drawers and socks belonging to a man named Brady. After stealing the clothes the young rogues divided them among themselves. Dale took the shirt as his portion of the booty. On Wednesday Brady happened to meet Dale, and identified his property at once. The culprit, on finding himself caught, acknowledged the corn implicating of course, McMillen and Johnson on whose persons were found the drawers and socks. All three were arrested and lodged in jail. McMillen and Dale entered pleas of guilty, while Johnson gently demurred to the soft impeachment. They were found guilty and sentenced to the county jail after a severe reprimand from the Judge. Johnson and McMillen were each sentenced to jail for one month, and Dale for six months. The latter has been before the Police Court many times and has passed a number of months in the county jail. The two former are recognized as hard cases. Truly something ought to be done to rescue these and others of our youths from crime.

STILL AGROUND.—Up to the very latest accounts the schooner H L Tiernan was still aground on the sands opposite Fort Stevens. She washed ashore during the highest tide, and consequently is now, at low tide, far out of water. The vessel has "listed," and a large portion of her cargo has been removed from the hold. The water is so shallow that the tugs can not approach along side. The Astoria was to go out yesterday and endeavor to haul the stranded vessel off into deep water but with what success we are not apprised. No serious damage has resulted to the schooner yet but the weather has been unusually calm, or a far different state of affairs might exist.

FIRST MARRIAGE.—Trinity Church was the scene of a grand nuptial occasion last evening. This is the first marriage ceremony which has yet been celebrated in the new church though we assert confidently that it will not be the last, should fire and flood spare the present building, the world stand, and young people continue to marry and be given in marriage. The spacious church room was crowded by the friends and relations of the bride and groom and those who came to witness the ceremonies out of curiosity. Bishop Morris officiated. Those who have any curiosity as to who the parties are can ascertain that by referring to the marriage notice.

LONG PASSAGES.—Both the English vessels Sylhet and Vesta are making unusually long passages from Liverpool. The Vesta sailed many months ago for Portland with an assorted cargo. To-day she has been out 188 days. Nothing has been heard from her since the day of sailing. No vessel has spoken her and so far as can be learned she has not put in at any port in distress or for supplies. With ordinary wind and weather the Vesta should have been here at least two months ago. There will be good grounds for apprehension should she delay her arrival much longer. The Sylhet is out 156 days from Liverpool bound for Victoria.

NEW COAL COMPANY.—Articles of incorporation were filed yesterday in the office of the County Clerk by Ben Holladay, James J Comstock and A G Cunningham for the organization of the "Comstock Coal Company." The business pursuit and occupation which this corporation proposes to engage in is to purchase, develop, mine and work coal and other mines in Douglas county, Oregon and elsewhere in the State. The duration of the corporation will be perpetual. The principal office and place of business is situated in Portland. The capital stock is fixed at $[illegible]. Amount of each share $100.

SAMUEL'S DIRECTORY FOR 1874.—This work will be ready for delivery on the 1st of January. The edition for 1873 was acknowledged by all to be the most reliable Directory ever published in this city, and our merchants will find it to their interest to encourage the publisher in his forthcoming work. The edition for 1874 will contain several new valuable features never before introduced in any Directory here. His prices for advertising are twenty five per cent lower than any other Directory. [illegible] the publisher will be around during the coming week to solicit advertising.

FOR GOOSE LAKE.—Mr. [illegible] Johnson, sometimes known by the euphonious sobriquet of [illegible] McGonigle's Slough, [illegible] withal a clever jovial fellow [illegible] took his departure yesterday for the Goose Lake country. He [illegible] that section of the country [illegible] into the sheep raising business. The many friends of Mr. Johnson [illegible] that they will not [illegible] permanently [illegible] his jovial [illegible] turning to [illegible] next spring.

[illegible] Ankeny [illegible] large building [illegible] building [illegible] least two stories [illegible] spring.

THE [illegible] Mr. J. R. T[illegible] Sacramento [illegible] in the city yesterday from the Sound. [illegible] lecture at the Court House this evening, commencing at 7 o'clock [illegible] the subject [illegible] and the Proper Food for Man. He proposes to prove from the Bible that the flesh of animals is not the proper food for man and that it was the forbidden fruit which God commanded Adam not to eat in the Garden of Eden. His advertisement will be found in another column.

SYNOD OF THE PACIFIC.—This ecclesiastical body was in session in San Francisco last week. Several of the ministers of this State who belong to the Presbyterian denomination were in attendance. We observe among the proceedings the name of Rev Dr Lindsley pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Portland. An exchange says in speaking of this reverend gentleman: Rev Dr Lindsley spoke at some length upon the missionary aspects in Sunday Schools and was listened to attentively.

RAFT OF LOGS.—A large raft of logs lies moored at the foot of Stark street which broke loose a few nights since from the boom on the east side of the river. Fortunately these logs were discovered by two men and after much labor and difficulties secured and tied to the bank. Unless the raft is soon removed a portion will have to remain until high water comes. Already some of the logs are left high and dry by the recedence of the river.

HANDSOME SAILBOAT.—A very handsome little sailboat has just been finished and painted at the carpenter shop near the boiler manufactory of Foster & Co. The dimensions of this craft are length 24 feet beam in the center 4 feet hold 2½ feet. Towing and sailing tackling will be attached to this boat. It was built for a gentleman who lives down the river and will be used in connection with one of the extensive fisheries.

RELIGIOUS MEETINGS.—The Chronicle says "The meetings for the promotion of entire holiness are continued at the Taylor street M E Church on each Tuesday afternoon. At the last one the attendance was somewhat larger than usual and the spiritual interest and impressions made were much more powerful than at any meeting since Conference."

STEAM RAISED.—Smith Bros who lost everything by the late fire have evinced a large measure of pluck in rebuilding. They have erected a wooden building larger than the one which was destroyed and will soon be ready to resume operations. Steam was raised in the shop yesterday for the first time since the fire.

SHIPPING SALMON.—Notwithstanding the various fisheries down the Columbia river ceased operations some months ago large quantities of these fish continue to arrive daily. Yesterday 600 cases arrived from below and will be shipped to San Francisco on the next steamer which departs from this port.

ARRIVED.—The ship City of Paris and the bark Jane A Falkinburg both arrived at port on Wednesday afternoon, the former in tow of the Emma Hayward and the latter the Oneatta. The City of Paris is anchored out in the stream waiting for berth room, and the Falkinburg is lying alongside the Romeo.

TREASURE RECEIVED.—Coin continues to arrive on every steamer notwithstanding the cry of hard times. Under these accessions to the circulating medium the stringency of the money market will soon commence to relax. The John L Stephens brought up last evening $200 000 treasure.

NET PROCEEDS.—The total sum realized at the fair and festival given on Wednesday afternoon and evening at the Presbyterian church was about $180. A large proportion of this sum was realized from the sale of fancy articles, etc, made by the ladies of the church.

STILL THEY GO.—Cattle still continue to come down from Eastern Oregon and are shipped to the Sound. Last evening a drove of sixty-three head came down the Columbia, and were sent to Kalama this morning.

ANOTHER NEW BRICK BUILDING.—We learn that Mr Tyler Woodward will shortly build a fine brick edifice on the southwest corner of First and Yamhill streets.

THE PROGRESS CLUB.

GRAND RECEPTION

A success! That scarcely expresses it. At eight o'clock last evening carriages began to roll up to the entrance door of the rooms of the Progress Club and a steady stream of people filled up the broad stairway into the spacious apartments. The doors were thrown wide open and the large assembly promenaded through each room. An excellent band discoursed sweet music giving to the scene a most enchanting effect. The elegant chandeliers with their many gas jets shed a brilliant light over the various rooms, presenting to the eye a grand picture. Among the notables present we observed the officers of the army in full uniform and distinguished citizens of this city. The ladies were attired most elaborately, their escorts appearing in full dress. The dining room was instantly thronged, the attractions there being tempting indeed. A long table was laden with edibles gotten up in such style as to at once engage the attention of the visitor. The reception committee was composed of the following members: [illegible], M I Cunningham, Isaac White, [illegible], Alex Mayer, Major Eagleton, Charles Lancaster, Emil Frank, [illegible] and F A Thomson. These gentlemen were diligent and afforded guests ample opportunity to inspect the elegant rooms. During the evening, several ladies and gentlemen volunteered to play and sing, attracting much attention. As our space will not permit we are obliged to omit a lengthy mention of the affair which was really grand. The town clock struck twelve ere the last guest had left the rooms. The club was organized some months ago and at present numbers a membership of one hundred. At first it was intended that the rooms in Carter's building would be sufficient to afford the members ample opportunities for enjoyment but as the roll of members began to increase it was found necessary to add new rooms. Accordingly the upper floor of Wilber's building was leased and a dining room, store room and card rooms were fitted up which were opened for the first time last evening. Now there is sufficient room for all purposes. Everything that is required to make a place of the kind complete is to be found at the rooms. The visitors' register shows an attendance of over four hundred persons introduced by members—certainly a large number. The officers of the Club are: L Fleischner President, Alex Mayer Vice President, M Seller Treasurer, Isaac Blum Secretary; Directors—Isaac White, Isaac Kaufman, Chas Hirstel, Emil Frank and Henry Ackerman. The season for social parties will soon be at hand and we anticipate the affairs of that character to begin by the Progress Club will be fully as brilliant as the Reception of last evening.

OUT-DOOR SPORTS

Under the caption of "That Third Game" the Statesman of Thursday says: We have seen a letter to the College Base Ball Club from the Pioneers of Portland requesting that the College Club play them still another game to be called the third game of the series, for the purpose as they say of deciding the championship of the State. By what course of reasoning they claim that the game played on Thursday of last week on the Fair Grounds in this city was not the third, when it was the next game after the second, we are unable to see. Neither can we see why that game should not decide the question of championship as well as the premium offered by the Agricultural Society. The Portland papers have gracefully yielded, not only that the Pioneers were badly beaten on that occasion, but that the championship rests, fairly and honorably, with the College Club. What more would the Pioneers have? Is not a defeat of more than two to one enough to satisfy their hankering after glory, or do they think that by a possible scratch they may win another game, as they did the one at Portland? We do not know what action has been taken upon the subject by the College Club, but think it likely the invitation to a fourth game has been declined.

A CHEERFUL VIEW OF THE GREAT PANIC.—The London Telegraph of Sept 20 after a long review of the railway building and complications in the United States predicted the outcome of the trouble as follows:

The one source of strength to the United States at present lies in the expansive vigor of their foreign trade, the result in its turn of an almost unexampled abundance in the harvests of the season. England, France and other leading European nations will this year absorb unprecedented supplies of all the chief staples which minister to the wants of manufacture and to the sustenance of their teeming populations. These purchases will keep a constant stream of wealth flowing into the United States, and it is utterly impossible that in such a case they can be poorer although local embarrassments may occasionally arise. With a cotton crop of 4 000 000 bales, with a prodigious wheat harvest, with even such minor products as rice, sugar and tobacco more abundant than usual and with the Old World waiting to buy these at high prices, America may laugh to scorn the idea of serious loss or prolonged embarrassment. The plain truth is that such local troubles as are seen in the failure of Messrs Jay Cooke & Co are themselves the rank outgrowth of exuberant prosperity—mere accessories to a progress which does not for an instant halt.

INDIANAPOLIS DIAMONDS IN DANGER.—A daring and extensive plot to rob the Exposition at Indianapolis, Indiana of diamonds and other valuables has been discovered. It was arranged that experienced burglars should be placed near the cases containing an immense amount of diamonds, jewelry and silverware while confederates should cut the gas pipe which supplies the Exposition and which runs through an open common. In the darkness and confusion the raid was to be made, the cases smashed and the valuables secured. The guards have been strengthened, calcium lights provided and all precautions taken to frustrate the [illegible].

EUGENE CITY ITEMS

The election last Monday passed off quietly.

There are now over one hundred thousand bushels of wheat in the various warehouses here, awaiting shipment.

The Shade House which has been closed for some time was reopened last Monday under the proprietorship of Mr Gardner.

The burning out of a flue in the Shade House last night caused an alarm of fire. It gave the H & L boys a chance to display their dexterity but did no damage.

The farmers are beginning to break ground for next year's crop. The large yield and the good prices of the last season have given a great impulse to farming industry in this county.

Mrs Lizzie Walton wife of Hon J J Walton Jr died at her home in this city last Monday. She was a lady much esteemed and her remains were followed to the grave by a large concourse of friends.

Work on the new University building has been somewhat delayed by the late rains. The brick work is about completed and the timbers for the roof are in position. When finished this will be the finest structure for educational purposes in the State.

ELI PERKINS IN THE BALLOON

DISPATCHES BY THE [illegible]

To the Editor of the Daily Graphic I send you this by the carrier pigeon Ariel. The balloon is sailing well. The collapse was a ruse. We fooled her last night to get the people out of the yard. Then Mr Donaldson and myself inflated her again with gas which we had with us and sailed away at eight P M. According to the barometer we are now suspended in mid heaven at [illegible] latitude [illegible] degrees ante meridian. We passed San Domingo thirty seven miles east of the planet Vesuvius at [illegible] o'clock M D this [illegible]. I am navigating the balloon [illegible] Donaldson and I are [illegible] feasting on the pigeons and shooting at each other with pistols. Wise sits in the stern of the boat with a navy revolver and Donaldson sits in the bow with a shotgun loaded to the muzzle with peas and billiard balls. It is very amusing and instructive. If I hadn't gone along to be pilot and navigator I think science would [illegible] suffered.

This morning at three o'clock and thirty four minutes N H, while we were sailing over Cape Cod Mr Wise came up to my room rang the bell and wanted to know whose side I was on.

"On the side of science," says I, "of course."

"No no Mr Perkins," he said in great agitation. "I mean on which side are you in the great fight." Then he cocked his gun.

I told him I wasn't on any side. I also stated to him that I was a peace man, that I came in the balloon purely for science.

"Then, Mr Perkins," said he looking at his gun, "I propose to kill you. You and Donaldson are mutineers. I will give you four minutes to join my side."

Then I joined his side, just to please him, and he gave me two navy revolvers to defend ourselves against Donaldson who was turning hand springs and cart wheels on the deck in the most threatening manner.

A little later, and Mr Donaldson pointed his shotgun at me and whispered in my ear. He said, "Mr Perkins, I will give you $11 if you will join my side." I took the money and [illegible]. Then we [illegible] ted our shotguns and revolvers at Mr Wise's head and told him to keep quiet.

A little later about nine B C—Mr Wise offered me $27 to abandon Mr Donaldson and come over to him. I took the money and saying, "It is all for science," I came over to him. Then we aimed our revolvers at Don [illegible].

So I've been going back and forth all night. I have made large sums of money and put it in the rear end of my dog-cart, where I can drive off with it as soon as we land. I suppose I have made $19 000 within the last hour in [illegible] ing up the balance of power between the [illegible].

It is very cold here. There is great coldness between Mr Wise and Donaldson and there is where I am—between them. The theory that Mr Wise has a warm heart is completely [illegible] when you see the icicles hanging on the end of his nose, and on his cold shoulder which he keeps toward us.

We have now gone up to a great altitude say 239 miles. We can easily see people in the [illegible]. We have discovered that the specks on the sun are made of German silver. The Milky way is only a dense fog, with droves of [illegible] which have got lost from New [illegible]. The light young ladies from Saratoga [illegible] we took for ballast have all been thrown out. They astonished us by going on up higher than the balloon. Several have sailed off towards Mars—latitude east of New Jersey and longitude 90 degrees Fahrenheit. I [illegible].

At four o'clock M D we passed General [illegible]. He found the easterly current, and [illegible] it, and ate it up before we arrived. He is [illegible] looking for prunes and dates. About [illegible] an accident. Our silver [illegible]. We are now roasting the [illegible] lamp and eating them [illegible]. We have passed Australia [illegible] and Peoria (Ill). We may make [illegible] at New [illegible] to see friends. Don't [illegible].

[illegible] PIGEON DISPATCH

Ten o'clock D D—She moves slowly. A [illegible] swell just struck the balloon. We immediately threw him overboard. Our chaplain has just [illegible] for higher wages. He [illegible] are four miles high now, and still he is not [illegible]. He stuck with his left hand. He wants to organize a base ball club. He is not a [illegible] man for a scientific expedition. We shall throw him out soon.

[illegible] DISPATCH

[illegible] o'clock F. B. S.—Have thrown the [illegible] in and Wise out. They have done [illegible] but eat the pigeons and drink the [illegible] which we brought up to scrub the floor with. Our carriage horses are doing well and the twelve cows we brought up are improving [illegible]. Hay and oats are cheap but going up. This morning I called the police and had Mr. Donaldson [illegible] ted for standing on his head on the top of the balloon. He is now in [illegible]. I'm sorry for it for he appears to take quite an interest in our great scheme. I don't think Mr Wise does. He spends all his time wiping out his gun and hunting around for Mr Donaldson.

FOURTH DISPATCH

12 o'clock post-meridiem—England in sight. We can tell it by the fog. We shall return in about a week. Mr Donaldson says he shall take this same gas bag to America and exchange it for Congressional gas from the House of Reprehensibles, which he proposes to put in a solid cast-iron balloon to be propelled by a [illegible] boat. This is one of Mr Wise's theories. It is growing very cold here. My hands are [illegible]. Send me some money ($) by the [illegible]. Borrow a Testament from some of the daily newspapers of New York, if they have one, and send it along. We shall stop with Mr Wi[illegible], of Windsor Palace to-morrow night—latitude west 128 Troy weight and longitude north from Pittsburg 4, 11 44. The Daily Graphic comes regularly. Adieu. Warmly yours ELI PERKINS Airnaut

MONUMENT TO CONFEDERATE DEAD—The Warrenton (Va.) Index gives the annexed description of a monument just completed for the ladies of the Fauquier Memorial association. The base of the monument is from Virginia quarries. The first base is seven feet [illegible], the second five feet square. The [illegible], die, shaft and figure of [illegible] are cut from fine white Italian marble. The die is three feet three inches square and four feet in height. On its east panel is this [illegible], "Confederate Dead. Six Hundred. Virginia's Daughters to Virginia's Defenders." On the south panel, "God will judge the right." On the west panel, "Go tell the Southrons that we lie here for the rights of their States. They never fail who die in a great cause." On its north panel, "Here on the soil of Virginia they [illegible] the hero on his unsurrendered shield." Surmounting the die is a shaft two and a half feet square at its base and thirteen feet high. On its eastern base is carved in bas relief emblems of the artillery, cavalry and infantry service, above which floats the flag of the Confederacy. Remembrance, a beautiful female figure of life size, holding in her left hand a book on whose unfolded pages fall the first rays of the rising sun and in her left hand a wreath of immortelles, completes the structure, the entire height of which is about thirty feet.

A WARNING TO COUNTRYMEN—A gentleman from the country, who has been paying a visit to this city, recently had some money stolen from him by some of the skin games. Yesterday he was walking down Broadway when a young man stepped up to him and said "How do you do, Mr Benedict. I believe you are from Rochester?" The gentleman replied "No Sir my name is Jackson from Niagara Falls." "Oh I thought you were [illegible]. [illegible] No. 93 Nassau street last week and would like to know when you would call for the [illegible]." Mr Jackson passed on and [illegible] further another man running up and exclaimed "How do you do Mr Jackson. I am glad to see you. I want to ask you a few questions about Niagara Falls." Mr Jackson said "Young man I guess [illegible] mistake" and then altering [illegible] he said "You scoundrel I know [illegible] game." The [illegible] away [illegible] followed by the gentleman who [illegible] rest. He was afterward taken before [illegible] Dowling, who sent [illegible] ters to have his photograph taken and will examine into the case [illegible]. The gentleman refuses to give his name and residence until the man who robbed him last week is arrested.—N Y Times Oct 1st

The power of love receives a fresh and striking illustration in the case of the Milwaukee girl who knocked her lover heels over head down a flight of stairs because he stopped kissing long enough to get a good long breath.

Liverpool Wheat [illegible]

[illegible]

In financial circles we have no important matters of local interest. The imports of treasure for the past month have been large and have contributed greatly toward the prevention of an actual scarcity of money here. Meanwhile the specie exports have also been quite large amounting to near $600 000. At this time our Wheat buyers find some difficulty in obtaining ready accommodations at favorable terms and are making some complaint of the stringency, but no special closeness exists in ordinary trade circles. The fact is the conservative character of the business done by our merchants has rendered their pecuniary condition quite safe from any serious damage by reason of monetary pressure.

Miscellaneous.

The Boston Shipping List says: It is a source of gratulation to know that in Boston not a single failure has resulted so far from the panic and that from all appearances our financial and commercial houses are in a position to hold out until the storm is over. Of course, money has become very scarce and if a few weak firms should be compelled to go down, it would not excite any surprise, but from all the information we could gather there is not a prominent house in any of the leading branches of trade or finance in any immediate danger.

The passenger and freight business of the Union Pacific is at present greater than ever before. The gross earnings for September will amount to over $1 000 000.

The San Francisco Herald of the 10th inst says:

This market boasts a good supply of loanable funds with a rather more active demand. There is no change in rates, commercial banks discounting for 1a1¼ per cent per month and the savings societies furnishing accommodation at 9a12 per cent per year. Country borrowers are more numerous and there seems to be a greater disposition to entertain their offers.

Home Produce Market.

WHEAT—To day furnishes but few new particulars of interest in our wheat market. The commodity is yet generally held at a figure from 5 to 10 cents per cental over the offers of exporters. We learn that for a lot of 10 000 bushels an offer of $1 85 per cental was made by a shipper to day and refused. We doubt however if the same offer would be made for ordinary lots. The quotations furnished are $1 80 with rather more inquiry than for several days past.

FLOUR—The demand to supply the local trade is still quite active, as is the call for shipping purposes. Our exports to points northward and to San Francisco thus far during the season have not been so large as during the corresponding period last year principally because of the lack of shipping, the available tonnage being taken for wheat. Later in the season we may expect an increase of shipments. We quote jobbing rates for standard brands of extra at $6 ₩ bbl; good outside brands $5 ₩ common county $5; fine $4 50; superfine $4.

OATS—The late rains have enabled the farmers to begin plowing, and they are too busy at that to give a great deal of attention to the marketing of this cereal; hence our receipts are quite light, but owing to a want of transportation are about up to the demand. Quotations are furnished at 45 cents ₩ bushel, including sacks.

BARLEY—The demand is rather slackened and choice lots are offered at $1 45 ₩ 100 lbs while the lightest bid is $1 40. The California product is being placed at tide water in quantities adequate to the foreign demand.

FEED—There is an increased demand at current rates which are firm. Bran is quotable at $16a17 50 ₩ ton; shorts $20a22 50; middlings and chops $25a30.

HAY—The supply is hardly up to the local demand but prices seem little inclined to appreciate; best baled is quotable at $13a14 ₩ ton; loose do $11 50a12 50.

POTATOES—The market is thoroughly stocked with all varieties and sales of large lots are effected with difficulty. The extreme quotations for jobbers are 30a42 cents ₩ bushel.

APPLES—The receipts are bountiful and prices low, but vary according to quality and style of packing. For good shipping varieties neatly packed, boxes included, quotations are [illegible] cents ₩ box. Common sorts from wagons sell at 40a50 cents.

ONIONS—The market is yet very dull and buyers' highest offers are [illegible] cents ₩ lb.

BACON—The supply of sides is in excess of the present demand while Oregon hams and shoulders are very scarce in the market and are considerably inquired after. Our quotations for sides are 10a11 cents, hams [illegible], shoulders 8a10 cents firm.

LARD—The demand for fresh Oregon lard is fairly active at [illegible] cents in tins and [illegible] in kegs.

BUTTER—The impossibility of giving exact quotations for this commodity arises from the fact that it is put on the market in such endless varieties of condition and quality. The demand is almost always in excess of the supply of choice, but common lots are usually disposed of at reduced rates and with difficulty.

CHEESE—The State dairies supply a choice quality for 16a17 cents ₩ lb, which is in fair demand.

EGGS—The receipts of the past few days have been light and prices are firmer at [illegible] cents ₩ dozen.

CHICKENS—There are many lots reaching the market and with the limited demand prices are dull. We quote mixed lots at $[illegible] ₩ dozen, choice $3 50.

BEEF CATTLE—The market price for choice young cattle is firm at five cents ₩ lb, with a diminution in the number offering.

SHEEP—We quote good mutton sheep in fair demand at $2 50a[illegible] ₩ head.

DRESSED HOGS—The demand is limited and 6a[illegible] ₩ lb is the quotation furnished.

HIDES—Dealers are freely taking for shipment all that offer paying 6a7c for salted and 14a15c for dry. These prices are for lots without blemish.

WOOL—We quote choice lots in fair demand at 24a25c ₩ lb. The range for common is 18a21c.

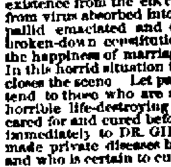
TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES! NEW REMEDIES!

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,



623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe and has resumed practice at his Dispensary 623 Kearney street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons both male and female are there who are suffering out a [illegible] existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system. Look at their pallid emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies, see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to DR. GIBBON, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases, without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz. Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

Married Men,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them, nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DR. GIBBON is responsible, and will give to the patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

Cured at Home.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin in a registered letter through the Postoffice or through Wells, Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union. All communications strictly confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets; for as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he professes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Postoffice Box 1,957.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER. Consultations FREE.

☞Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the DAILY OREGONIAN. L[illegible]
